While the sport community is, of course, focused on this year's Honda Indy Toronto, I wanted to take a moment and mention what has been in the works for the next event. *UPDATE* We've determined that the Chicago IndyCar Series will definitely be returning to the venue next August of 2017. We're excited to reveal we have a wide-ranging agreement in principle with Rahal Letterman Lanigan Racing to return to Honda Indy Toronto on August 11th and 12th, 2017. The event is an incredible success, having run every year since 2006. The track is firmly one of North America's premier events, and is a perfect companion to the IndyCar Series. We've also made a deal to return to the IMS facility at the end of the season for the 2017 Indianapolis 500. We look forward to announcing an exact details of this next season's event in coming months. IF -- IS THERE A POSSIBLE INVESTMENT? >> YES. The new police system allows users to add their details to a police register and it automatically searches for the police profile of offenders. The administrative liaison group works closely with police to ensure police and other criminal investigators can access the register so they can track and arrest offenders without having to resort to guesswork. The new system, which is used throughout NSW and works like the NSW Police Force's senior investigator database, makes data open and available to the community to identify, track and arrest offenders. Along with NSW Police, NSW Crime Commission, the NSW Office of Liquor, Gaming and Racing, and the Magistrates' Courts also use the system to automatically search for information relating to offenders. When searching for an offender, investigators can go to a specific offence, the offender's location or the offender's postcode. The system will then automatically search for incidents, offences or missing persons at a specific address.
