My application is working correctly most of the time, but every now and then I am getting this error message: Communications error: 7 This appears to be a bug in the spark streaming that I am running. I was wondering if anyone else has seen this problem before? Edit: There are no errors logged in the spark streaming log file. Thanks! A: This is a fairly generic error. You can have many causes, be my guess is that the host is down for some reason and then you cannot send messages. If you have a spark streaming job or something that requires a connection to a system, you could schedule that on a different host to avoid this. If you can, in the first place, implement a consistent schedule so that you know the host is up all the time. In case this is an important message (ie if you need to send data to a publisher) you could try to catch the exception. Some exceptions usually do not leave any information in the stack. try: some_read_stuff() except Exception
