What's new:

s (2005) After the box was opened, three things happened: The owner of the box is dead. The skill has died. The box is empty. You leave a box with no skill in it up and empty, you don't come back and pick it up. The skill required to use the Alicization Lycoris Warlock Sprite is the Blossoming of Forget-me-Nots, which takes the form of one of the box's mini-art cards, thus becoming unavailable once the box has been opened. The card art has a similar missing-eyes look to it, as if once the box has been opened, there is no way to see. Pre-Conquest of the Sea Princes (2008) To every tragedy comes a season of pain. To this day, the Sea Princes believe that tragedy and misery will never lead to good. They believe in the constancy of the waves and were never able to see the light beyond the darkness. The skill required to use the Pre-Conquest of the Sea Princes Prince Warrior Sprite is the Untouchable Mists, which takes the form of a bad and should be avoided. The Hero Sprite uses this skill. Sea Princes have no water skills as they should and living in the ocean they should be able to swim. What on earth are they doing farming? Match 3: Moonglow Blade Warrior (2013) "Swords are the enemies of your soul.Yet I cannot quell my thirst for battle.This blade is my soul." "Toottoot-toot-toot." Match 3: Blue-backed Speaking Warrior (2013) "Fighting is all there is, and yet I find it empty.This is my life." You'll often see Warrior Sprite and Princess Sprite cards in a box with a Princess Sprite affixed to the back of a Warrior Sprite. Pre-Conquest of the Sea Princes and Moonglow Blade Warrior are the two skill cards requiring these sprites. Princess Sprite cards use standard Hero Spritematching skills with the exception being that their Use Skill requirement is the Princess Sprite's name; 'Princess Spider', 'Princess Lillia', 'Princess Flutterfly', etc. Princess Springer,
