Bellamy, who had a six-year employment contract with Storm when he famously called out then Broncos assistant coach Wayne Bennett, tweeted a meme of him dressed as Santa Claus, with the word 'Ho Ho Ho' superimposed over a sexualised picture of a woman. The tweet was shared more than 15,000 times and received more than 600 comments. Storm have since apologised to Bennett for the social media faux pas, but Bellamy has been given no such

What's New in the LobbyBrowser?

Take advantage of the full functionality of Internet in a pocket-sized environment. LobbyBrowser is a simple and easy-to-use browser, that's designed to offer a compact solution for your online needs, with a minimalistic look and feel. Able to play apps, videos, music, documents and more If you're a gadget lover, then you'll love this versatile app. Although it may not look the most sophisticated of applications, it does possess one feature that makes it stand out: a HUGE library of apps. A little pocket-sized application that offers bigger functionality than its appearance may suggest Although the application has only been in the market for just a few weeks, there are a number of apps that already represent all sorts of content from various sources. Playing the media on your phone and tablet is almost effortless with all the sources the browser offers, including music and video, but, while browsing the Internet, users have access to a number of other sources such as images, video galleries, documents and more. Even though the app feels a little primitive, having all the capabilities that we commonly find on computers through a lightweight tool, isn't a bad thing at all. A reliable and fast browser with a variety of useful features, but unfortunately, there are some bugs here and there A notable bug appears in the app, when users attempt to navigate the browser with the Home button, the app disappears from the home screen, and trying to re-access it, is as hard as hard get, as the browser isn't present in the app drawer. This is a problem that we've encountered while testing the app on a couple of devices, and while we'd like to think that the developers are aware of the issue, we doubt that it will be fixed anytime soon. The browser is very responsive and has instant navigation throughout the entire app, so it's a good app to download, but if you're planning to use it for browsing only, we would say that the app is worth the download, especially considering that it's simple and easy-to-use. A web browser dedicated to browsing the dark web without letting the Government and criminals know your whereabouts. It makes use of Tor Browsers technology to maintain your anonymity and security. Built on top of latest versions of Firefox, DoubleWin is a great browser to watch the web for anonymity. A little boxed app packed
