The song describes a woman who does nothing but complain and deliberately goes out of her way to make other people miserable. She has "pep pills" that give her a "pep pill cheer", but she is still really unhappy. The song is often thought to be about Berry's wife and girlfriend Maud Nunn, but he said that he had just used her name to be more "original". "Troublemaker" was recorded by many other artists, including Elvis Presley on his 1955 album, with the B side, "Heartbreak Hotel", and the Marvelettes, on their 1958 album, on the RCA label, "Troublemaker", written and produced by Jerry Wexler, and it was released as a single. The song was the B-side of "Nadine" in the UK. Other versions The Everly Brothers released a version of the song in 1962. The song also was performed by Little Richard in 1956.
